

EJENDALS ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

Through an active environmental policy, we shall strengthen our reputation among our customers, employees and other interested parties and work systematically to reduce the environmental impact.

Ejendals shall contribute to a sustainable social development with a foundation in recycling by the following principles;

- With regards to what the market demands, we shall strive to minimize the environmental impact of the hand- and foot protection products we provide and the packaging we use. An important part of this work is that we set relevant environmental requirements on our suppliers and contractors.
- Make more efficient use of energy and transportation and minimize waste.
- Act to increase recycling of materials and decrease resource use.
- Quality- and environmental friendly products shall be promoted.
- Applicable laws and other regulations shall be carefully obeyed.
- By manufacturing products for hand- and foot protection that is of higher quality, we avoid unnecessary wear and waste.
- All the information in our environmental policy shall be open and objective.
