

EJENDALS QUALITY POLICY

The most important aspects for our quality are our delivery performance, product quality and customer service.

Ejendals will only market products which provide function, design and service reliability to meet the customer's demands and expectations.

Product quality, customer service and price combined will reinforce Ejendals' position as leading supplier of hand and foot protection.

Our aim is to continuously improve the customer's perception of Ejendals as a good supplier by meeting the ISO 9001 standards and continuously improving the business system.

Quality includes both proper product quality in relation to price and to provide the level of service which customers perceive as good.

Applicable laws must also be properly adhered to.
